2009 TempNet Fall Conference

The Power of TempNet

- Leaving Your Competition in the Backstretch -

Hyatt Regency at State Capitol Indianapolis

TempNet O³ (One-on-One) Business Meetings: An opportunity for strategic decisions to be made and relationships developed.

TempNet's O³ is a returning program that will bring to you more than just a stack of unqualified business cards. O³ will bring you direct access to the decision makers from the top independently owned staffing firms throughout the US and Canada. TempNet recognizes there are many choices in conferences to exhibit. TempNet O³ Business Meetings were formed to make TempNet the easy economical choice.

What does your company spend in sending you to visit 10 prospective staffing firms?

Calculate time and money that can be saved by arranging O³ Business Meetings, with qualified staffing firms, at one location. Not only are they qualified...but the person you are sitting down with, is either the decision maker or a strong influence on the decision maker. Most of the TempNet members are very involved in their local communities, chambers and staffing associations. If they are receiving an excellent service or using an amazing product that message will be shared to firms outside of TempNet. What a time efficient and effective manner to grow your business!

How much time and money do you spend in retaining your current clients?

We all know, it is less expensive to grow your business through existing clients. It is also makes economical sense to retain your current clients. Yet, most of us are so focused on landing the new contract that we have sort of lost sight of what is important to our existing clients and whether we still meeting their expectations. TempNet members are the new contracts to your competitors. Retaining current clients and growing within those clients is a critical part of business development. The TempNet O³ Business Meetings allow you an economical way to check in with a number of your current clients and make sure the reason you haven't heard from them is because everything is perfect.

How much do you spend on an industry magazine ad?

Your participation investment in the TempNet O³ Business Meetings and Fall Conference INCLUDES: promotion from the time you sign up through the conference, promotion in all post-conference follow-up materials, TempNet Talks newsletter, e-mail updates, web-site acknowledgements, and take-away materials.
